

I am very distressed to hear that the expansion of the Low Power FM service may interfere with my favorite radio station. I am a dedicated listener to K-LOVE on 100.7 FM out of Utica New York. This station provides family friendly listening 24 hours 7 days a week. As a parent of a 15 month old I know that this area needs this service for families that care about what their children are exposed to on radio. With other stations, I have to worry about the language in the music and the language of the announcers. I have to worry about topics that songs discuss as well as the announcers. With K-LOVE, there is no worry of foul language in song or announcers' talk. There are no sexual explicit conversations or songs, no discussions of how to commit crimes and murder within songs and no songs that praise the taking of drugs. The music is uplifting and positive as is the announcers' conversations. I would have to leave my radio off if I were to lose my station because my daughter is not going to be exposed to the unwholesome ways of radio and this world that way. I want to be the one to explain all the evil that is in this world and not have it glorified, as if it is acceptable and proper to behave in such ways. The children in this community are exposed to enough of the corrupt ways just by walking down the street. There should be somewhere they can turn to find an alternative to secular music and influence and hear positive messages and hope. Please do not allow the expansion of LPFM stations to override something worthwhile and positive that so many people enjoy already and may bring hope to others in the future.
